

Lisa Sylvester Acogny

A tri-language speaking native of East St. Louis, IL and graduate of Tennessee State University;

Lisa Acogny spent 20 years as a funeral director and embalmer.

After 10 years of working on Aids related projects throughout Europe and Africa, she returned to America to continue contributing her skills and services to the HIV and AIDS to the community in America for 6 years.

She currently serves as the Director of International Programs for Knowledge-First Academy which gives her opportunity to open American satellite schools of higher learning in Africa.